CHARLES ALEXANDER CAMPBELL 1ST PRESIDENT OF THE

Charles Alexander (C.A.) Campbell was a notable resident of Lansing, Michigan. He spent his childhood in Lansing and became a significant African American political leader in the state. Additionally, he was active in various fraternal organizations and church activities for the colored community.

CA was the only son of Louis and Susan Campbell and was born in East Tawas on February 14, 1872. He attended school in Lansing and always had the respect of the people of the community. He was employed for some time on the private car of the Bate C. W. Luce, Central Michigan Railroad superintendent.

In 1907, Mr. Campbell began working at the Department of State. Later, he worked with the Department of Labor and Industry. His rise in political and fraternal circles was phenomenal and rapid. He held high positions in the Masonic organization and served in a manner so noteworthy as to merit his election to the 33rd and last degree in Masonry, also he was a member of the executive council of the negro division of the Republican National committee.

He was initiated into the order of Colored Freemasons in 1908. In October 1913 he married Mrs. Lucy Collins and was an active member of George. R Collins A.M.E. Church being a Trustee and Secretary of the official board. He was prominent in the colored Masonic fraternal order having been master of the Prince Hall Capitol Lodge #8 and later served as Grand Master of Michigan, 2 years as Potentate of El Karnak Shrine temple, and as Secretary of the Peninsular Consistory #44 Lansing. He was elevated to the 33rd Degree of Mason who holds the highest honorary rank in the Scottish Rite of Freemasonry.

Mr. Campbell served as the 1st President 1919-1920 of the NAACP Lansing Branch.

For three years Mr. Campbell served as state supervisor for the Insurance Co. of Chicago and through his activities built up an excellent sales force in Michigan. It was through his political activities that Mr. Campbell won state and country-wide recognition as an outstanding member of the Negro race. In September 1917 he entered the services of the State Department of Labor, under Richard H. Fletcher, Commissioner and served in that department continuously until February 1927 having advanced from janitor to clerk then to Special Industrial Agent and finally to the office of Director of Negro Welfare and Statistics of the State, an office which through Mr. Campbell's persistent efforts, was instituted in 1924 by Governor Alex J. Grosbeck.

KNOWN NATIONALLY

During this time, he won the recognition of outstanding politicians of both parties being a member of the executive council of the Negro division of the Republican National committee. In this capacity he was associated with such leaders as William C. Matthews of Boston, late Assistant Attorney General of the United States, William T. Francis of St. Paul, now United States Minister to Liberia, Col. Roscoe C. Simmons of Kentucky of oratorical fame and others. He also numbered among his friends and associates some of the foremost political and fraternal men of the state.

President Campbell died on Thursday, August 15, 1928, and he was interred at Mt. Hope Cemetery in Lansing, MI. Besides his widow Mrs. Lucy Campbell, he was survived by his mother Mrs. Susan Campbell, a daughter Mrs. Mae Taylor, a step-son George R. Collins all of Lansing; a step-daughter Mrs. Margaret Webb of Chicago, a half-sister Bernice Jackson of Chicago and eight grandchildren: Charles, Jean, Elizabeth and James Brown; Laurabel, Roland, Frederick, and Janet Taylor who is the mother of the Honorable Judge Shauna Dunnings.

“Lift Every Voice & Sing”

James Weldon Johnson (1900)

Lift every voice and sing,
'Til earth and heaven ring,
Ring with the harmonies of Liberty;
Let our rejoicing rise
High as the list'ning skies,
Let it resound loud as the rolling sea.
Sing a song full of the faith that the dark past has taught us,
Sing a song full of the hope that the present has brought us;
Facing the rising sun of our new day begun,
Let us march on 'til victory is won.

Stony the road we trod,
Bitter the chastening rod,
Felt in the days when hope unborn had died;
Yet with a steady beat,
Have not our weary feet
Come to the place for which our fathers sighed?
We have come over a way that with tears has been watered,
We have come, treading our path through the blood of the slaughtered,
Out from the gloomy past,
'Til now we stand at last
Where the white gleam of our bright star is cast.

God of our weary years,
God of our silent tears,
Thou who has brought us thus far on the way;
Thou who has by Thy might
Led us into the light,
Keep us forever in the path, we pray.
Lest our feet stray from the places, our God, where we met Thee,
our hearts drunk with the wine of the world, we forget Thee;
Shadowed beneath Thy hand,
May we forever stand,
True to our God,
True to our native land.

WE'RE ON A MISSION!

October 11, 2026

Dear Freedom Fighters and Supporters of the NAACP Lansing Branch:

On behalf of the NAACP Lansing Branch and its Executive Committee members, it is with great honor and pleasure that I extend a warm welcome to our historic 60th Annual Freedom Fund Dinner.

We thank you for your generous support and participation in this evening's exciting occasion.

Our theme, 'We the People,' is fitting for today's special event. These first three words of the U.S. Constitution represent both the strength of our democracy and the power we hold as a people. It's also a reminder that our democracy is only as strong — or as fragile — as the people responsible for upholding it. Consequently, we are living in a time when the tower of democracy and the pillars of civil rights are being chipped away — one letter, one bill at a time.

When the Lansing Branch held its first Freedom Fund Dinner 60 years ago, our nation had not long before enacted the landmark Voting Rights Act, which prohibited racial discrimination in voting. This year, the Supreme Court dismantled a core protection of that law, effectively giving states greater latitude for gerrymandering and eliminating African American representation in congressional districts. Furthermore, this administration has eliminated DEI programs, imposed damaging economic policies, and made deep cuts to health, education, and social programs.

In the Greater Lansing area, our branch continues to fight against police brutality and advocate for fair housing, healthcare and education.

The shining light is our power to vote. Join us at the polls for the midterms. Let's charge forward with the passion, the hard work, and the unwavering strength that will impact our community for the greater good.

Congratulations to our awardees and our scholarship winners. And to you, our supporters and freedom fighters — thank you for joining us as we celebrate 107 years of fighting for civil and human rights in the Greater Lansing area.

Sincerely,
James McCurtis, Jr., President

60th Annual Freedom Fund Dinner

“We The People”

We are honored to serve as the 2026 Co- Chairs of the NAACP Lansing Branch 60th Freedom Fund Dinner.

Under the theme “We The People,” we are gathering to reclaim the promise of a nation that belongs to ALL of us. We The People have work to do: civil rights to demand, an election to prepare for, and culture to celebrate.

We are privileged to welcome our esteemed keynote speaker, Mr. Roland Martin, an award-winning journalist, author, and media trailblazer widely recognized as a definitive voice in modern news, politics, and culture.

Tonight, we will recognize outstanding chapter members, youth council members, and community leaders who continue to make a profound difference in the Greater Lansing Area.

Finally, we extend our deepest gratitude to the Freedom Fund Dinner Committee. Their tireless work and commitment have made this evening a success.

Dear NAACP Lansing Freedom Fighters & Supporters:

On behalf of the state officers, Executive Committee members, and units of the NAACP Michigan State Conference, it is with great honor that I extend heartfelt greetings to the NAACP Lansing Branch on the momentous occasion of your 60th Annual Freedom Fund Dinner themed: "We the People." Special congratulations to Ms. Glender Anderson, State Conference Area Director, for receiving the Volunteer of the Year Award. Well deserved!

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) has been on the front lines of change, progress and advocacy for 117 years and we're committed to dismantling racism and disrupting inequality to create a society where all people can truly be free. We advocate, agitate, and litigate for the civil rights due to Black America.

Our legacy is built on the foundation of grassroots activism by some of the biggest civil rights pioneers of the 20th century, and is sustained by 21st century activists. From classrooms and courtrooms to city halls and Congress, our network of members across Michigan and the country works to secure the social and political power that will end race-based discrimination. That work is rooted in racial equity, civic engagement, and supportive policies and institutions for all marginalized people, and we're committed to a world without racism where Black people can enjoy equitable opportunities in thriving communities.

We strongly encourage you to join us in the "Fight for Freedom" and spend your money where you're respected. Support the NAACP and Black-owned businesses, and demand big corporations/companies prioritize people over profit. We must continue to advocate for policies that ensure people of color, women, veterans, those with a disability, and all protected groups have equal access to opportunities across the country. And more importantly, in order to choose liberty over oppression, we must "Take Our Soles to The Polls & VOTE," the choice is ours!

To President James McCurtis, officers and entire membership, thank you for all that you have done, and will continue to do, to help advance the civil rights and social justice agenda in Michigan. Congratulations on celebrating 107 years of championing civil and human rights issues in the greater Lansing area, and best wishes for a successful event.

October 11, 2026

Dear Friends:

It is an honor to join the leadership and guests of the Lansing Branch of the NAACP at this 60th Annual Freedom Fund Dinner. For generations, the NAACP has worked tirelessly to secure civil rights for millions, and that vital work continues today.

Founded to ensure a society where every individual can live free from racial discrimination, the NAACP remains a driving force for equality in communities across the nation. As a long-time member of one of its more than 2,000 chapters, I am proud to support our Lansing branch by listening closely to community concerns and helping advance these shared goals here at home.

A warm welcome to this year's special guest, Roland Martin. Our community is energized and honored to celebrate this milestone with you. Your leadership and dedication strengthen the movement for justice nationwide. We are grateful for your presence as we recognize progress, inspire action, and continue the pursuit of lasting equality.

Congratulations to the NAACP leadership on another outstanding event and thank you for your decades of service to the greater Lansing region.

Sincerely,

Roland S. Martin

Over the course of a journalistic career that has seen him interview multiple U.S. presidents to the top athletes and entertainers in Hollywood, Roland S. Martin is a journalist who has always maintained a clear sense of his calling in this world. Many have bestowed upon him the moniker, "The Voice Of Black America."

Martin is the host and managing editor of #RolandMartinUnfiltered, the first daily online show in history focused on news and analysis of politics, entertainment, sports, and culture from an explicitly African American perspective. It launched on Sept. 4, 2018.

On Sept. 4, 2021, Martin launched the Black Star Network, an OTT network that features a variety of shows focused on news, culture, finance, wellness, history and wellness. BSN is available on Apple and Android phones; Apple and Android TV; Roku; Amazon Fire, Xbox One and Samsung TV. For the last two years, Martin produces a twice daily commentary on iHeartRadio's Black Information Network, heard on nearly 40 stations nationwide.

Martin is the author of four books. His latest is "White Fear: How the Browning of America Is Making White Folks Lose Their Minds." His other books are: Listening to the Spirit Within: 50 Perspectives on Faith; Speak, Brother! A Black Man's View of America; and The First: President Barack Obama's Road to the White House as originally reported by Roland S. Martin.

He has contributed to several others, including Paradox of Loyalty: An African American Response to the War on Terrorism by Julianne Malveaux; Black Woman Redefined: Dispelling Myths and Discovering Fulfillment in the Age of Michelle Obama by Sophia Nelson; Faivish Pewzner New York and Fatherhood: Rising to the Ultimate Challenge by Etan Thomas and Nick Chiles.

Martin is a sought-after international speaker, delivering speeches and lectures to numerous groups annually, electrifying audiences with his deep understanding of history, politics and culture. He has been named four times by Ebony Magazine as one of the 150 Most Influential African Americans in the United States.

When Jet Magazine readers voted in 2012 for who is "King of the Hill" in terms of who they turn to on issues of concern to African Americans, Martin came on top, ahead of the likes of the Rev. Al Sharpton and Donna Brazile. NewsOne.com named as the number one Black pundit in the country; and he has been named several times to The Root 100, their annual list of influential African Americans.

In October 2022, Martin was named a Fellow of the Society of Professional Journalists, the organization's highest honor. In December 2021, he was inducted as the youngest living member of the National Association of Black Journalists Hall Of Fame. In 2008, he was also inducted into the Texas A&M University Journalism Hall of Honor.

In his career, Martin has been showered with more than 40 awards for journalistic excellence, including being named the Journalist of the Year in 2013 by the National Association of Black Journalists for his extensive focus on voter suppression and other issues of concern to African Americans during the 2012 election.

Martin was also awarded the 2008 President's Award by the National Association of Black Journalists for his work in multiple media platforms. He is a four-time NAACP Image Award winner, including named Best Host for the last two years.

Martin spent six years as a contributor for CNN, appearing on numerous shows and earning accolades near and far for his no-holds honesty, conviction and perspective on various issues. In 2009, CNN was awarded the Peabody Award for its outstanding 2008 election coverage, of which Martin was a member of the Best Political Team on Television.

From 2008 to 2019, Martin was a senior analyst for the Tom Joyner Morning Show, where his daily segment was heard on more than 100 stations and 8 million people daily.

Martin has been named one of the top 50 political pundits by the Daily Telegraph in the United Kingdom, and has appeared numerous times on a variety of American networks, as well as media outlets in Canada, Columbia, Italy, Australia and South Africa. From October 2005 to October 2008, he served as a radio talk show for WVON-AM in Chicago, first as mid-day host and later as morning drive host.

He is the former executive editor/general manager of the Chicago Defender, the nation's most historic Black newspaper. A digital media pioneer, Martin launched the first Black news source audio and video podcast in 2005 and 2006 at the Defender. He is the former founding news editor for Savoy Magazine under the team of New York-based Vanguard Media, and the former founding editor of BlackAmericaWeb.com. He previously served as owner/publisher of Dallas-Fort Worth Heritage, a Christian monthly newspaper. He also has worked as managing editor of the Houston Defender and the Dallas Weekly, which he led to a number of local, state and national journalism awards.

Martin has worked as morning drive reporter for KRLD/1080 AM; news director and morning anchor at KKDA-AM in Dallas; city hall reporter for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram; and county government and neighbors reporter for the Austin American-Statesman. He has also written pieces for Ebony and Essence magazines.

Mr. Martin is a life member of the National Association of Black Journalists; a life member of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, Inc.; and a member of Sigma Pi Phi Fraternity, Inc. He is a board member of the education reform group, 50Can. Martin a 1987 graduate of Jack Yates High School-Magnet School of Communications, and a 1991 graduate of Texas A&M University, where he earned a bachelor's of science degree in journalism. He has been awarded honorary degrees from Florida Memorial University; University of Maryland- University College; Lemoyne-Owen College; Lane College; and South Carolina State University.

He is married to the Rev. Jacquie Hood Martin, author of "Fulfilled! The Art and Joy of Balanced Living," and "Wedded Bliss: A 52-Week Devotional to Balanced Living" and the children's book series, "Hannah's Heart." They reside in northern Virginia and the Dallas area.

Mistress of Ceremonies: Rachelle Legrand

Rachelle Legrand is a 2x Emmy-nominated television host, producer, journalist, and media personality whose work blends compelling storytelling, entertainment, and community connection. She currently serves as the Executive Producer and Evening Anchor of The 517 Report at WILX-TV, a groundbreaking new 7 p.m. newscast that marks the first time in WILX history that the station has launched a newscast in the 7 p.m. hour. In this role, Rachelle helps shape the editorial vision and leads viewers through the day's biggest stories with context, clarity, and a conversational approach to news.

Rachelle is also the television co-host and producer of WILX's lifestyle show, Studio 10, where she helped build the program into an award-winning television broadcast. She has played a key role in developing and producing impactful programming, including the show's award-winning Black History Month special. She also produced WILX's award-winning Juneteenth: Unity in the Community special, highlighting the history, culture, and voices of the Black community throughout Mid-Michigan. Through her work on Studio 10, Rachelle has helped create programming that celebrates Michigan communities, local businesses, nonprofits, culture, and compelling human-interest stories while growing the show's audience and digital presence.

With an M.A. from Syracuse University's S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communications and a B.A. from Rutgers University, Rachelle's expertise spans journalism, broadcasting, television production, entertainment, and media consulting.

Her work has been recognized with two Emmy nominations, and she has contributed to national publications including Sesé Magazine, American Theatre Magazine, Pure Michigan, and The Haitian Times. She has also interviewed notable figures across entertainment, culture, and public life, such as Jimmy Fallon, Wacka Flocka Flame, Blair Underwood, Jackie Aina, Mayor Mary Sheffield, Lt. Governor Gilchrist, bringing her signature warmth and personality to conversations with celebrities, authors, artists, and community leaders.

Rachelle's media journey began as a multimedia reporter and producer for WAER NPR radio, where she honed her storytelling skills. She later served as an entertainment correspondent for Juice and Java and as an anchor and reporter for Mornings on the Hill, Syracuse University's morning broadcast program. Before transitioning to television full-time, Rachelle thrived in musical theatre, performing on stages along the East Coast, including the renowned George Street Playhouse and ACT of Connecticut.

Beyond her work in media, Rachelle is passionate about mentorship, service, and helping the next generation of creatives and communicators find their voice. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority, Incorporated, Chi Epsilon Omega Chapter, and uses her platform to support and mentor young professionals looking to break into the media industry or pivot into fulfilling careers.

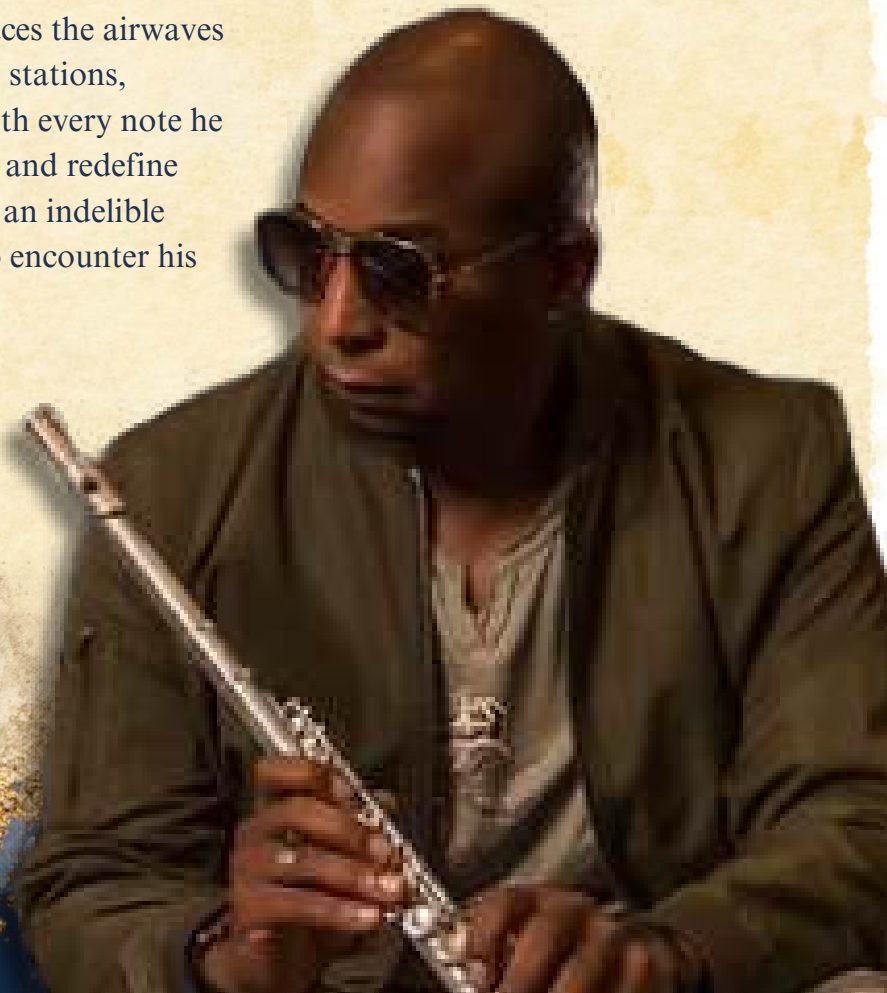

Flautist: Brandon Marceal

Flautist Brandon Marceal has swiftly become a standout figure in the realm of progressive jazz music, infusing his performances with a distinctive essence that resonates deeply with audiences across the United States. Through his captivating melodies, Marcel doesn't merely play music; he crafts intricate conversations that traverse musical boundaries, inviting listeners into a realm brimming with harmonious frequencies and soulful connections. His artistry exudes a soothing and sensual quality, leaving an indelible mark on those who experience his performances.

An exceptional milestone in Marceal's journey came when he clinched the title of "Sunday's Best Musician" in Ben Tankard's 2020 competition, an achievement that speaks volumes about his immense talent. His evocative flute can be heard gracing Tankard's 2021 release, "Shine", further solidifying Marceal's prominence as an artist. Notably, Marceal's influence extends beyond genre confines, as he gracefully infuses Gospel, Contemporary Jazz, and hip-hop/R&B with his unique touch, earning him a reputation as a musical boundary-pusher.

After dedicating decades to nurturing his passion for the culture, Marceal has honed the art of using information to give his instrument a voice that mirrors his own personality. His mastery over the flute transforms into a vessel through which he communicates his emotions and thoughts, forming an intimate bond with his listeners.

At present, Marceal's single, "Waay Up", graces the airwaves of SiriusXM Watercolors and local jazz radio stations, cementing his presence in the music scene. With every note he plays, Brandon Marceal continues to reshape and redefine the boundaries of contemporary jazz, leaving an indelible imprint on the hearts and minds of those who encounter his music.

Mission of NAACP

Our mission is to achieve equity, political rights, and social inclusion by advancing policies and practices that expand human and civil rights, eliminate discrimination, and accelerate the well-being, education, and economic security of Black people and all persons of color.

Vision Statement of NAACP

We envision an inclusive community rooted in liberation where all persons can exercise their civil and human rights without discrimination. We are committed to a world without racism where Black people enjoy equitable opportunities in thriving communities.

CALL TO ACTION

The NAACP's current call to action centers on protecting voting rights, mobilizing communities, and pushing Congress to reject harmful policies such as the SAVE Act, ICE funding increases, and attacks on civil rights.

Overview

The NAACP issues ongoing calls to action urging individuals to engage in civic participation, defend our political power, and oppose legislation that threatens civil rights. These actions span voting rights, economic justice, environmental justice, and community mobilization.

Key Current Calls to Action

- ❖ Protect Voting Rights
- ❖ Oppose Harmful Federal Policies
- ❖ Advance Civil Rights Through Community Mobilization
- ❖ Join Issue-Based Advocacy Campaigns

Community Service Award

Eric and Wendi King, Poppa's Cookbook LLC

Poppa's Cookbook, LLC is a family-owned Lansing business founded by Eric and Wendi King with a simple belief: good food has the power to bring people together, strengthen community, and care for those who need it most.

The inspiration behind Poppa's Cookbook began long before the business had a name. Eric King's love of cooking was rooted in family, tradition, and recipes passed down through generations. Affectionately known as "Poppa" by his grandchildren, Eric turned that love of cooking into Poppa's Cookbook, officially launching the business in 2024. With Eric leading the kitchen and Wendi helping guide the business, community outreach, promotion, and mission, Poppa's Cookbook quickly became about much more than serving meals.

At the heart of the business is Pay It Forward with Poppa, an ongoing community initiative created to help ensure that the ability to pay never determines whether someone can eat.

Through the program, customers and community supporters donate meals that Poppa's Cookbook provides free of charge to individuals experiencing homelessness and others in need. No complicated process and no judgment—just a hot meal prepared and served with dignity. Through the generosity of others and the commitment of Poppa's Cookbook, the program has allowed the Kings to make feeding their community part of the everyday mission of their business.

Poppa's Cookbook has also served as a place of opportunity and inclusion. Through its partnership with ABLE Allies, a nonprofit co-founded by Wendi and her daughter Erin, adults with disabilities have been provided opportunities to develop job-readiness, kitchen, catering, social, and independent-living skills in real community settings. For Eric and Wendi, inclusion means more than simply being welcomed—it means having meaningful opportunities to participate, contribute, learn, and belong.

The Kings have consistently used Poppa's Cookbook as a vehicle to support the Lansing community. Whether providing meals, supporting local organizations and fundraising efforts, creating opportunities for adults with disabilities, partnering with community groups, or simply making sure someone who is hungry has something to eat, their philosophy has remained the same: serve people first.

Although Poppa's Cookbook recently transitioned from daily restaurant operations, its work continues through catering, meal prep, community events, and special Soul Food Sunday opportunities. The Kings continue to feed those in need for free weekly. Poppa's Cookbook's location may have changed, but the mission has not.

Eric and Wendi believe that a successful business should leave its community better than it found it. Through Poppa's Cookbook, they have combined food, family, service, and compassion into something much larger than a business.

Their guiding message remains simple:

"Fighting hunger—one plate at a time."

Educator of The Year Award

Doris Copedge

Born to Horace and Evergreen Bonham, and raised alongside her sister and four brothers, Doris Copedge learned early the values of family, perseverance, and community. For 41 years, she has shared a devoted marriage with Dale Copedge, and together they have raised three children - Salihah (Ramone), Dulles, and Rashard - and built a legacy that continues through her beloved grandchildren - Ramona, Nehemiah, Nadae, and Josiah. A proud Silver Life Member of the NAACP, Doris has long been a champion for civil rights and civic engagement. Her leadership as a youth mentor, her services on the Freedom Fund Dinner committee, and her dedication to voter mobilization reflect her deep commitment to justice and empowerment. Her spiritual home, Union Missionary Baptist Church, has been blessed by her faithful service.

Doris has greeted congregants with warmth, taught Sunday School and Vacation Bible School, served in Mission, and guided others as a Rooted Facilitator. Her presence has strengthened the church community in countless ways. Her love of culture and movement flourished through the Pashami African Dancers, under the mentorship of Dorothy H. Jones. Doris traveled the world - twice to Africa, to Trinidad, and across the United States - sharing the joy and power of African dance. Her cherished motto,

"To Dance is to Live," continues to embody her spirit.

Additional past organizations include service with the Fenner Nature Center Board, Jack and Jill of America, Les Meres & Debutantes, and Girl Scouts of America as a leader.

Doris's educational journey began in the Lansing School District, where she attended Main Street School, Dwight Rich Middle School, and Everett High School. A gifted and active student, she played basketball, volleyball, and track, while also studying violin and piano. She continued her education at Michigan State University (Go Green!), earning her degree in Elementary Education and becoming a proud, lifelong member of Zeta Phi Beta Sorority, Incorporated, where she has remained active for an extraordinary 47 years.

Doris began her teaching career with the Lansing School District in 1979 and retired in 2023.

During her distinguished career, she mentored college interns, inspired students from kindergarten through high school, and created memorable learning experiences through countless field trips, especially the beloved trips to Mackinac Island. Her Lansing roots allowed her to connect deeply with students, reminding them that success was possible for every child in her hometown.

Health Advocate of The Year Award

Thomas E. McCurdy, D.O., FACOOG, (Ret)

Dr. McCurdy is a dedicated physician, military veteran, and civil rights advocate with a commitment to public service and community health.

His academic journey began at the University of Notre Dame, where he completed his undergraduate studies. While teaching high school biology in Tucson, he earned two master's degrees from the University of Arizona. In 1989, he received his Doctor of Osteopathy from AT Still University/Kirksville College of Osteopathic Medicine. He then completed a residency in Obstetrics and Gynecology at Lansing General Hospital in 1994.

Following his training, he entered active duty service in the United States Air Force, serving from 1995 to 2000. In 2000, he accompanied his active-duty spouse to Bitburg-Spangdahlem Air Bases in Germany. During this time, he dedicated his skills as a Red Cross volunteer at the Bitburg AB Hospital, earning the Bitburg Red Cross Volunteer of the Year Award in 2003.

Upon his wife's retirement from the Air Force in 2008, the couple returned to Michigan. Driven by a mission to help vulnerable populations, he worked at several clinics serving the medically underserved in the Grant, Fremont, and Muskegon areas. He returned to the Lansing area in 2015, transitioning to the urgent care environment as an OB Emergency Room physician at Allegiance Health in Jackson, Michigan. He retired from active medical practice in May 2019. Since retirement, he has channeled his energy into civil rights advocacy, joining the NAACP in 2021, where he is now a Diamond Life Subscribing member. He initially contributed his time to the Membership Committee before joining the Health Committee a year later. He was appointed Chair of the Armed Services Veterans Affairs Committee in January 2025, followed by his appointment as Chair of the Health Committee in January 2026.

He earned a bachelor's degree from Tuskegee Institute/now Tuskegee University (biology); Master of Education (rehabilitation counseling), Master of Arts (clinical psychology), and the Doctor of Philosophy in clinical psychology all from the University of Illinois- Champaign- Urbana. He also has a certificate in theological studies from the Interdenominational Theological Seminary (Atlanta, Georgia); did sabbatical study as a special student at the Duke University Divinity School; and earned the Master of Ministry Leadership degree from Grand Rapids Theological Seminary (Cornerstone University). He also has been awarded an Honorary Doctor of Education Degree from Michigan State University. He is a licensed clinical psychologist in the state of Michigan.

Lee is author, co-author, editor, or co-editor of some 50 publications including journal articles, book chapters, and seven books, - The Black family: Past Present, and Future (1991), Men to Men (with Matthew Parker, Sr. (1996), Evangelism and Discipleship in African American Churches (with Matthew Parker, Sr.- 1999), Counseling for Seemingly Impossible Problems (with Sabrina Black and Willie Richardson- 2002), Yet With a Steady Beat: The Black Church Through a Psychological and Biblical Lens (2008), African American Church Leadership: Principles of Effective Ministry and Community Leadership (with Christopher Mathis (2013) and Man to Man: African American Voice on Faith, Wisdom, and Perseverance (2025) (with Christopher C. Mathis and Matthew Parker, Sr.) Lee retired in August 2025 and is a professor and vice president emeritus, Michigan State University (Honors College and the Department of Psychology). During his 52-year career at Michigan State University he served in the following roles: director of the counseling center; senior advisor to the provost for racial, ethnic and multicultural issues; assistant/associate provost for academic student services and multicultural issues; vice president for student affairs and services; a core faculty member in the African American and African Studies Program.

He has particular interests in the art and science of effective support services delivery to college students, multicultural psychology, and the psychology of religion and spirituality. He has recently taught courses entitled "The Psychology of Religion and Spirituality" and "Introduction to Multicultural Psychology."

Among the awards and recognitions received are the Michigan State University Black Student Alliance Outstanding Administrator Award (2005); the Michigan State University Distinguished Black Alumni Award (2006); the Michigan State University All University Diversity Life Time Achievement Award (2006); the Michigan State University Muslim Students Association Recognition Award (2006); the Greater Lansing Area Club of the National Business Professional Women's Club Frederick Douglas Award (2016); and the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Living Legend Award (2025). Active in his local church (New Mount Calvary Baptist Church) he serves on the ministerial staff and teaches Sunday school. He also serves as the Dean of the Lansing Area Ministerial Alliance, a member of the Advisory Council for Our Daily Bread Ministries, member of the Board of Directors of Free International Missions, chair of the Board of Directors for the Institute for Black Family Development, former member of the Board of Trustees at Cornerstone University, and is a Commissioner for the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Holiday Commission of Mid-Michigan.

Lee is married to Shirley Ann Spencer June, and they are the parents of two sons, Brian and Stephen.

Outstanding Member Award

Glender Anderson

My name is Glender Anderson, and I have been a dedicated member of the NAACP for over 30 years. I am proud to be a Silver Life member and Gold subscribing member of the Lansing Branch, member of Freedom Fund Committee, and member of Membership Committee where I have spent decades serving in vital leadership roles. My local executive experience includes 10 years as a Member-at-Large, four years as First Vice President, five years as Treasurer, and four years as Assistant Treasurer, and three years as member of Election Supervisory Committee.

At the state level, I currently serve as an Area Director for the Michigan State Conference of the NAACP, an appointment I have held for over four years. Driven by a deep commitment to the organization's structure and mission, I also previously served as Sergeant-at-Arms for eight years and Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms for two years

Trailblazer Award

Fire Chief Carrie Edwards-Clemons

Chief Carrie Edwards-Clemons is a distinguished public safety leader whose 26-year career in the fire service has been defined by groundbreaking achievement, unwavering dedication, and transformative community impact. A graduate of Flint Community Schools, she studied at Jackson State University before earning her B.A. from the University of Michigan and an M.B.A. in Public Administration from Columbia Southern University. She is a graduate of the International Association of Fire Chiefs Fire Service Executive Development Institute and holds the esteemed Chief Fire Officer (CFO) designation from the Center for Public Safety Excellence.

Carrie began her fire service journey in 1999 as a trainee with the Flint Fire Department. Over more than two decades, she served as firefighter/paramedic, officer, building inspector, EMS and Firefighter Instructor, Emergency Vehicle Operator Instructor, Hazardous Materials Technician, and EMS Coordinator. She made history as Flint's first female Deputy Fire Chief, retiring after 23 years of dedicated service. Carrie joined the Lansing Fire Department in 2024 as Assistant Chief and in January 2026, she was appointed Fire Chief by Mayor Andy Schor, becoming the first woman to lead the department in its 169-year history.

A lifelong advocate for community strength and equity, Carrie's impact extends far beyond emergency response. She is widely known for advancing Community Risk Reduction strategies that bring safety education directly into neighborhoods, schools, and youth organizations. Through her commitment to teaching fire safety, CPR and First Aid, she has empowered thousands of residents, especially young people, to become confident, prepared, and capable of saving lives. Her work has expanded access to emergency preparedness resources in underserved communities and fostered a culture where public safety is shared, accessible, and collaborative. Carrie's leadership extends far beyond her department. She has served on numerous local and national boards. In 2020, she made history as the first woman elected President of the International Association of Black Professional Firefighter, Incorporated, guiding the organization with vision, inclusivity, and purpose.

Her commitment to community uplift is deeply personal. Carrie is a Mentor with Big Brothers Big Sisters, where she invests in young people through encouragement, advocacy, and example. She is a Silver Life member of the NAACP Lansing Branch, Life Member of the Jackson State University Alumni Association, member of Triumph Ebenezer Church, and the Lansing/East Lansing Area MI Chapter of The Links, Incorporated, organizations through which she supports educational advancement, civic engagement, and service initiatives.

Chief Carrie Edwards-Clemons is the proud mother of three adult children and grandmother to five. Her work, leadership, and legacy continue to inspire future generations, especially young women and youth of color to see themselves as leaders, trailblazers, and capable of shaping their communities for the better.

Personal Motto: "If I can help somebody as I pass along, then my living shall not be in vain."

Rising Star Award

Kelsey Osborne-Garth. Ph.D Candidate

Kelsey Osborne-Garth is a Ph.D. candidate in Political Science at Michigan State University, where she also holds a master's degree. Her research sits at the intersection of race and ethnic politics, national identity, and political belonging. Her work asks a foundational question: how do Black Americans and other marginalized communities understand their place in the United States, and how does this shape their political participation and sense of national belonging?

Specifically, how do Black Americans express their national identity despite centuries of discrimination? Her scholarship in these areas has appeared in peer-reviewed academic journals, and she has brought her expertise into the classroom, teaching political science courses and mentoring students of color as they navigate research for the first time.

Kelsey's commitment to racial justice extends beyond the academy. As a Black woman raised outside of Nashville, Tennessee, she grew up near a Confederate plantation and passed its cotton fields daily. On a school visit to the plantation in her late adolescence, she stood on the same soil as the enslaved Americans who had labored over it for generations, yet whose names and stories were absent from the historical narrative. That encounter profoundly affected her and ignited a commitment to activism that has never left her.

That commitment deepened during her undergraduate years at Lee University in Cleveland, Tennessee. In the summer of 2020, she organized a petition to relocate a Confederate monument from its place across from the university's admissions building. Within a month, the petition had gathered over 11,000 signatures, sparked months of protest, and contributed to the formation of a local social justice organization. She has carried that same spirit into her service with the NAACP Lansing Branch, where she has grown from member to Assistant Secretary, a position she is proud to hold.

For Kelsey, the mission of the NAACP Lansing Branch is a commitment she holds that spans every aspect of her life. This commitment is rooted in lived experience, carried through her scholarship, and sustained by the belief that the arc of the moral universe is long, but it bends toward justice.

Youth Council's President's Award

Tristan Walker

Tristan Walker is a dedicated young leader, student-athlete, and community volunteer whose commitment to service and civic engagement continues to make a positive impact in his community.

A proud member of the NAACP Lansing Youth Council since 2021, Tristan currently serves as Secretary, a role that reflects his growth, dedication, and leadership within the organization. Before assuming his current position, Tristan served as Assistant Secretary for three years, gaining valuable experience in organization, communication, teamwork, and youth advocacy.

Currently a Junior at Holt High School, He is also a member of the Holt High School Varsity Football Team, where he has developed important qualities such as teamwork, perseverance, accountability, and leadership.

Tristan has consistently demonstrated a strong commitment to civic responsibility through his volunteer work. He has participated in numerous community initiatives, including voter registration awareness efforts and canvassing in Detroit, community support activities, and NAACP Freedom Fund dinners. Through these experiences, Tristan has gained firsthand knowledge of the importance of community involvement and the power young people have to make a difference.

In 2023, Tristan completed the "7 Habits of Highly Effective Teens" Workshop, further strengthening his skills in leadership, personal development, communication, goal-setting, and positive decision-making.

Outside of school and the NAACP, Tristan is an active member of Mount Hope Church, where he participates as a youth volunteer. His involvement in his church and community reflects his strong belief in serving others and being a positive influence among his peers.

Those who know Tristan recognize him as someone who is dependable, compassionate, and always willing to lend a helping hand. Whether he is serving his community, supporting his teammates, volunteering through his church, or taking on responsibilities within the NAACP, Tristan approaches each opportunity with enthusiasm and a genuine desire to help others.

As he continues his journey through high school, Tristan is building a strong foundation as a young man committed to leadership, service, education, faith, and civic engagement.

His experiences demonstrate that leadership is not simply about holding a title—it is about showing up, serving others, and being willing to make a difference.

President's Award

Khadja Erickson

Khadja Erickson is the Executive Director of the Mid-Michigan Tenant Resource Center (MMTRC), where she has turned a small, underfunded operation into one of the most trusted and effective forces for housing justice in the Lansing area. She leads with the conviction that housing is a civil right, not a privilege extended to those who can prove they deserve it, and she has built both an organization and a reputation around making that true for people the system routinely fails. Her tenant defense practice has real teeth, including a landmark emergency housing ruling for the Dietrich/Fallen Angels encampment and an injunction and money judgment win at Kristana Mobile Home Park. Erickson serves as Housing Chair for the NAACP Lansing Branch 3145, and holds board and executive leadership roles with the Ingham County Continuum of Care, the Michigan Coalition Against Homelessness, and the Michigan Homeless Policy Council. She is currently leading statewide advocacy to advance deed fraud prevention legislation. Under her leadership, MMTRC was also honored with a Spirit of Detroit Award for its work protecting residents from deed fraud. Her approach to street outreach has become a model presented to audiences across the state, and she continues to fight on the ground, from defending encampments against emergency ordinances to winning tenants their homes back in court. Central to all of it is a clear conviction: the criminalization of homelessness and the erosion of tenant protections are civil rights issues, falling hardest on Black and low-income residents. Fighting for housing is fighting for equity, and it's the fight Erickson has built her career and her organization around. She was recognized as PEC's 2026 Peacemaker of the Year for her work on encampment defense, anti-criminalization advocacy, and extreme weather outreach.

President's Award

Attorney Nicole Evans

Nicole Evans is an attorney, judicial administrator, public servant, and community advocate whose distinguished career has been defined by serving others and strengthening the communities in which she lives and works. For more than two decades, Nicole has dedicated her professional and personal life to public service, justice, and creating greater access to opportunity. Her career has taken her from court clerk and probation to municipal government and election administration and, ultimately, judicial leadership. Today, she serves as Court Administrator for the 54B District Court in East Lansing where she oversees the operations of a two-judge court, manages a $3.5 million budget, and leads a team of more than 20 employees. In this role, she has championed the public's access to justice, expanded online services and court capacity during a time where most municipal institutions were regressing under the strain of COVID-19, strengthened community engagement in the judicial process, and worked to ensure that the court remained accessible and responsive to the constituents it serves.

Nicole's commitment to service is reflected not only in her profession, but in the breadth of her leadership.

She has served as Chair and Vice-Chair of the Representative Assembly of the State Bar of Michigan, Commissioner for the State Bar of Michigan and as a Director for the Michigan Court Administrators Association, where she co-founded the Public Trust & Confidence Committee. She is a Fellow of the Institute for Court Management (ICM) through the National Center for State Courts. Earning the designation of an ICM Fellow represents the highest tier of achievement court administrators across the nation. She also holds the distinctions of Certified Court Executive and Certified Court Manager – premier accreditations for court leaders. Nicole leveraged her expertise to shape professional and ethical standards at the Michigan Judicial Institute (MJl) by presenting at seminars for court support staff statewide. Nicole's educational journey is equally distinguished.

Nicole earned her Bachelor of Arts from the University of Olivet, a Master of Public Administration from Western Michigan University, and her Juris Doctor from Thomas M. Cooley Law School. She has continued to invest in professional education throughout her career, using that knowledge not simply to advance professionally, but to improve the institutions and communities she serves. Nicole's character is her commitment to service beyond the workplace. She has organized and supported expungement and Road to Restoration clinics in the Greater Lansing area. Specifically, she has organized the 2026 May 1 Law Day Expungement Clinic in partnership with the East Lansing Public Library, the Lansing Area Road to Restoration Clinics (2022, 2023, 2025, 2026), and the Mid-Michigan Virtual Expungement Clinic (June 19, 2021). Her efforts have ensured that local area residents can overcome barriers to real opportunities in employment, education, and housing.

Nicole's extensive volunteerism spans over two decades of dedication to her community. She has served as a volunteer with Meals on Wheels for 20 years and has a six-year tenure as treasurer for the Lansing Branch of the NAACP. Additionally, she supports community legal initiatives like Project Salute – a prominent pro bono legal initiative founded by the University of Detroit Mercy School of Law focused on helping low-income military veterans navigate federal benefits. In 2013, the Davis Dunning Bar Association selected Nicole as the recipient of its most prestigious recognition, the President's Award. She was also honored with the Distinguished Volunteer Award from the Ingham County Bar Association in 2021. Nicole has demonstrated that her commitment to others is not occasional or ceremonial but woven into the fabric of her life. Nicole Evans represents the kind of leadership that understands that service is both a privilege and a responsibility. Whether she is managing court operations, creating opportunities for expanding access to justice, supporting her community, or investing in the next generation of professionals, she leads with purpose, compassion, and an unwavering belief in the power of service.

Special congratulations to our very own Lansing Fire Chief Carrie Edwards-Clemons on receiving the 2026 Trailblazer Award!

Add a Legacy

As we celebrate 60 years of the Freedom Fund and the enduring pursuit of justice and equity, we're reminded that every generation has its changemakers.

Add to the legacy by nominating someone for recognition at The Changemakers Center or contributing artifacts and stories that preserve the African American history of our city.

FREEDOM FUND CELEBRATION

On behalf of the Lansing City Council, we proudly celebrate the 60th Freedom Fund Celebration and the Lansing NAACP's long, unwavering leadership in advancing justice, equity, and opportunity for every resident of our city. Your legacy has shaped Lansing for generations, and we are honored to stand with you as you continue that work for generations to come.

THRIVE

Black communities across Michigan have too often been an afterthought in federal policy with promised investment that arrives late, falls short, or comes with no way to measure whether it actually made a difference.

Abdul's THRIVE Agenda sets a different standard: real accountability and measurable results.

Abdul studied to be a doctor – but realized it was our broken politics that was making people sick. Abdul has dedicated his entire career to building government agencies that actually work for Michiganders. He is running for the U.S. Senate because he believes life in America shouldn't be this hard, and as your Senator, Abdul will fight to build a government that works for you, not Elon Musk, Donald Trump, or their billionaire friends. Abdul is running for U.S. Senate because life in Michigan shouldn't be this hard – or this expensive. After a successful career of making government work for Michiganders, he wants to take his vision to Washington and make the United States Senate work for you.

He rebuilt Detroit's Health Department after bankruptcy. Then he restructured Wayne County's Department of Health, Human &

Veterans Services, serving 1.8 million Michiganders in the state's largest and most diverse county. As a public servant, Abdul secured free glasses for kids who needed them, removed lead from Detroit's elementary schools, took on Michigan's biggest polluters, and made life-saving Narcan universally accessible. He also spearheaded a program that will cancel up to $700 million in medical debt for 300,000 Michiganders over 2 years.

Hope, Support and Healing

2900 Stabler St., Lansing, MI 48910

The Crisis Care Center brings several established CMHA-CEI programs that previously operated from different locations all in one place.

Adult Crisis Services and Youth Crisis Services moved to the center in June, followed by the Bridges Crisis Residential Unit in July and The Recovery Center in August. Still in the works, the center will also add the community's first Crisis Stabilization Units with dedicated specialized short-term care for youths and adults

Those experiencing a mental or behavioral health crisis, please contact:
Adult Crisis Services at 517-346-8460
Children's Crisis Services at 517-346-8008

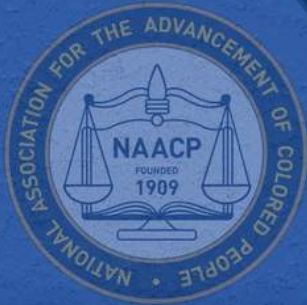

Community Mental Health Authority of Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham Counties (CMHA-CEI) is a public agency serving people in Clinton, Eaton, and Ingham Counties. As a Certified Community Behavioral Health Clinic (CCBHC) Expansion Grantee, CMHA-CEI provides a comprehensive set of services used to increase access to care, support people in crisis, and provide treatment for those with the most serious and complex behavioral health needs regardless of insurance coverage.
